Thank You!

Thank you for giving Avaya the opportunity to address the Convergys leadership in Orlando next week.

This is an exciting time for your business and the global growth momentum for both our companies is high. This is a fascinating industry and we look forward to discovering creative ways we can take combined solutions to market together, as well as drive costs out of your business.

As you are well aware, now more than ever, technology presents the ability to reduce cost and add value in dramatic ways, making a huge difference in a business' bottom line.

Avaya welcomes the opportunity to interact with you and share ideas and experiences. Please stop by Avaya on Monday February 27, 2006 between the hours of 6:00pm and 9:30pm to learn more about the possibilities for Avaya and Convergys.

Kind Regards,

Global Account Vice President
Avaya Sales
